

F2F Activity, Social Security and Welfare

Section: What is social security and welfare?

What do you know about Social security and welfare?

Participants will be welcomed to the activity. Brief introduction of the participants and objective of the activity. 10 minutes

Firstly, they will have a relaxed conversation with the facilitator/s as a warm up. They will be asked what they know about social security and welfare programs. 10 minutes

After that participants will be introduced with the topic Social security and welfare by the facilitator (he/she can use videos etc.). The facilitator will explain the different kinds of social security and welfare programs. Then they will be briefly introduced with the section: What is social security and welfare? from the course Social Security and Welfare. 10 minutes

Every participant selects from the types of the benefits of social security and welfare programs written on the paper. The participants should think about the selected topic and how it is regulated in their country. They will have directions by facilitator before the start of the activity in order to have good discussion and to have same approach with other groups. 15 minutes

After that, there will be plenary discussion and review. Every participant will present his/her topic selected previously and should explain how it is regulated in their country. Summary of this activity will be that all participants will share their knowledge on the topic and will compare the social security and welfare programs/welfare benefits with other countries. 15 minutes
